

Circumferential Plating of 43-C2 Pilon Fracture with Mini-Fragment Plate System

Andrew Sheng Bi¹, Jack Christopher Adams², Sara Jo Solasz³, Neel Vallurupalli, Sanjit R Konda⁴, Abhishek Ganta⁵

¹NYU Langone Health, Department of Orthopedic Surge, ²NYU Langone Orthopedic Hospital, ³NYU Langone Health, ⁴NYU Langone Medical Center, ⁵NYU Hospital For Joint Diseases

This video shows mini-fragment plating for a 32-year-old female with a complete articular pilon fracture. Initial treatment involved an ankle-spanning external fixator. Surgical stabilization used posterolateral and anteromedial incisions with mini-fragment plates. Post-op, the patient showed maintained reduction and no arthritis.